

How Manavia's Managed Services can help you operate efficiently

Operating an Isle of Man licensed can seem like a daunting task, but our seasoned team of eGaming professionals are on hand to assist with everything from registering your company to helping you operate once your licence has been granted. We do this through our Managed Services that let you pick and choose what roles and services you can handle in house, and which ones you would like us to handle. This gives you maximum flexibility and a tailor made solution that fits your requirements and budget. Below are some of the services we can provide for you:

MLRO Provision

We recognise the critical importance of compliance in the online gaming industry. With regulations becoming increasingly stringent, having a competent Money Laundering Reporting Officer is imperative. Manavia provides expert MLRO services, ensuring that clients remain compliant with anti-money laundering (AML) regulations.

Director Provision

For businesses seeking an effective corporate structure, we offer director provision services, including Isle of Man Gambling Supervision Commission (GSC) approved resident directors for eGaming firms. Our directors are experienced professionals who bring their wealth of knowledge and strategic insights to the table.

Accounting and Financial Services

We go beyond the basics by offering comprehensive accounting and financial services. From bookkeeping to financial reporting, the team ensures that your financial records are accurate, transparent, and compliant with regulatory standards.

Compliance Services

Hiring competent and experienced compliance personnel can be challenging. Our managed services take the hassle out of this important aspect of your operation by providing you with compliance professionals able to cover all relevant aspects and roles.

Corporate Secretarial Services

We understand the significance of efficient corporate governance and provide meticulous corporate secretarial services, handling statutory compliance, record-keeping, and ensuring that all regulatory obligations are met.

Application Process Assistance

Navigating through the application process for an eGaming license can be complex. Our experts will guide you through each step, from the initial consultation to the submission of a meticulously prepared application, streamlining the process to acquiring your licence.

We recognise that not all of our clients wish to have their own office on the Isle of Man or do not want to handle all related work in-house. Our Managed Services provide the perfect solution for these situations, and we would be happy to discuss this further with you in person. If you would like to receive a free consultation for your business, then we will be happy to help.
